

Live better with MedicAlert

X

Together we can do more

“For FOP Friends, our partnership with MedicAlert delivers more than just information; it delivers peace of mind. The rarity of FOP means that medical professionals are unlikely to have any knowledge of the condition, so it’s crucial that they have access to vital medical information at the right time in order to deliver the highest level of treatment and care. This will provide much-needed reassurance to those living with FOP and their loved ones.” – Helen Bedford-Gay
